Adiós al periodista más importante del periodismo español. El viajero vasco que quiso descansar en La Alcarria.

In memoriam

A photograph of Manu Leguineche, an elderly man with a beard and glasses, wearing a light-colored hat, a brown corduroy jacket, and blue trousers. He is sitting on stone steps outdoors, smiling at the camera. A white duck is standing on the steps in front of him, looking up at his hand. The background shows a stone wall and some greenery with small yellow flowers.
