

Halloween is usually celebrated by both adults and kids. Some families celebrate by having costume parties and playing special games like bobbing for apples and telling ghost stories. Sometimes children go "trick or treating" - knocking on doors in their trusted neighbourhoods collecting candy. Other times they may attend a community party instead. Parents should use common sense when supervising their child's Halloween activities.

Halloween Jokes

- Who won the skeleton beauty contest? No body
- What do skeletons say before they begin dining? Bone appetite!
- Where do mummies go for a swim? To the dead sea
- What do you call a witch who lives at the beach? A sand-witch
- Why didn't the skeleton dance at the party? He had no body to dance with

Halloween in our high school

This year, our students have celebrated Halloween by writing horror stories and eating candies and chocolates. A lot of students have participated with wonderful stories, many of them were invented but there were also real stories such as strange dreams and frightening experiences. We thank the participants for sharing their experiences with us and we encourage them to keep on writing!

Las profesoras de inglés Rosa y Patricia junto con Jesús Carrión y Mireya Fernández celebran Halloween